THE ESCAPE OF JIM DOLAN.....Two Reel Selig

Jim Dolan, the ideal type of cowboy, arouses the hatred of Ed Jones, foreman of the Brown ranch, because of his attentions to pretty Grace Wellington. Brown, whose ranch surrounds the little claim of Dolan, rides in with his foreman one day and demands that Dolan sell out to him. He refuses and Jones butts in only to be quickly silenced. This clinches Jones' hatred for Dolan, and he frames up a case of "missing cattle" so that suspicion points to Dolan.

Dolan is convicted of the crime and sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary. Through the clever assistance of Grace, he makes a thrilling getaway, only to be captured later by the Apaches, who proceed to torture him. Rescued by a prospector, he learns later that Jones, wounded in a saloon fight has confessed his crime. Jim Dolan returns to the game of life for good, and Grace Wellington becomes his chief treasure.

LOCKED VISITOR IN TOWN CHURCH

Traveling Salesman after Breaking up Meeting in Local Colored Church is Held Prisoner until Officer Arrives.

Clearing the church of all the women present and compelling the men to take unusual measures to control the situation, John F. Baer, a traveling salesman of Lancaster, broke up class meeting at the Asbury M. E. Church on South Franklin street Thursday evening and finally landed in jail after being held a prisoner by the congregation until an officer arrived.

Baer, who is said to have been under the influence of liquor, walked bravely into the meeting where a number of the colored people of town were holding their weekly class service. His actions soon became objectionable and W. Frank Penn, one of the leading members of the congregation, escorted him to the door.

The man was not so easily gotten away however, and he came back indulging in profanity and threatening to do bodily harm to any who interfered with him. He had no weapon but he prepared to strike if molested.

Some one conceived the happy thought of turning the church into a temporary lock-up and one by one the members withdrew until Baer alone was left on the inside. The key was turned and the salesman was held a prisoner. Chief of Police Shealer had been sent for in the meantime and when he arrived he found the building well guarded by indignant members of the congregation who were prepared for any effort the intruder might make to escape.

Baer was perfectly docile when Mr. Shealer placed him under arrest and accompanied him to the county jail without raising any further disturbance.

GET ELOPERS

Elopers Caught in Littlestown but are Later Married.

Walking part of the way and driving the rest, a young eloping couple from Taneytown arrived in Littlestown Tuesday evening about 11 o'clock, and were promptly apprehended by Officer Dutro who had received a telephone message to be on the look-out for them. The young lady, Miss Anna Bowersox, aged about 17 years, was taken to the officer's home for the night, while the young man, Clarence Banks, spent the night at the Willard Hotel. Wednesday morning, upon request of the young lady's mother, the man was held by Officer Dutro until her arrival on the 10:21 train. The interested parties were then brought together and the prospective groom evidently given the usual maternal biasing as the mother later accompanied the young couple back to Taneytown where they were married at the Catholic rectory.

TWO WRECKS

Soon after Clearing Track, Wreck Train is Derailed.

Soon after the Western Maryland main track at Fairplay, which was blocked Wednesday night by a landslide, had been cleared Thursday afternoon another wreck occurred which tied-up the track until early this morning. Engine No. 759, of the wreck train in charge of Conductor T. D. Shank and Engineman Pete Gosnell, while going around a curve at a speed of approximately twenty-five miles an hour, crashed into its own train, derailling the heavy crane and tearing up several cars.

SHOT HER MOTHER WITH AIR RIFLE

Mrs. Charles Hunter, of High Street, Painfully though not Seriously Hurt by her Little Daughter. Thought Gun was Empty.

Mrs. Charles Hunter, of East High street, was shot in the side of the head on Thursday when her little daughter playfully pointed a supposedly empty air rifle at her and pulled the trigger. The injury is not serious.

The child, who is thirteen years old, had been at the regular session of school and as she entered the house on her return home, picked up her brother's little rifle and pointing it at her mother called "Look out, Mama, I am going to shoot". The mother did not have a moment to warn the little girl of the danger and the child discharged the weapon, the B. B. shot which it contained striking Mrs. Hunter below the temple on the left side of the head.

The stinging shot stunned Mrs. Hunter for a few moments but the physician who was summoned found that it had embedded itself well into the flesh where it would not do any immediate damage and it will not be removed for several days, after which it is thought Mrs. Hunter will have recovered from the shock.

She is getting along very nicely now and no serious results are anticipated. The little girl was most unhappy when she found the harm in which her play had resulted.

AFLOAT ON ICE

Horse and Wagon Swept Down White Run Creek.

While Guy Miller, of near Bonneauville was crossing White Run creek on the ice with horse and spring wagon Tuesday, the ice broke and the team was swept down the stream for about a quarter of a mile.

Teams had been crossing on the ice for some time, but on Tuesday the water was high and, as Mr. Miller was in the center of the stream, the ice broke in large pieces and one of the chunks bearing the team drifted down the channel until it was stopped at a low place, and Mr. Miller was able to get his team out in safety.

ORRTANNA FRUIT BELT IS ACTIVE

Many Fruit Growers of the Western End of the County Prepare to Plant Trees and to Grow Fancy Small Fruits. After Reputation.

The western part of Adams County, in the hill and mountain section, is fast getting on the fruit map.

The high altitude, perfect air drainage, and copper stone soil, give perfection of color, flavor and solidity to its fruit. The early and late frosts do not often affect this section, while the heavy dews in the mountains furnish a vigorous growth to the berries and vegetables that is not seen in the valleys. The spring is here and an unusual amount of orchard planting is promised. Several large farms have been purchased by orchardmen, among which are the following:

The Musselmans have bought the Burman farm of 175 acres, and will plant a large acreage in fruit, including 40 acres of cherries, planting almost entirely Montmorency variety. The greater part, if not all, of this fruit when grown will be consumed at the canning factory at Orrtanna. They also expect to raise strawberries for canning purposes, and will plant 25 acres the coming spring.

Samuel Musselman, recently from the West, has bought the Wetzel farm, 120 acres, and will plant the larger part of it in apple and peach this spring.

Dr. Rice was at several sales recently buying an outfit for his son who comes on from Iowa this spring to occupy and plant his 120 acre farm in an apple orchard.

Sheely Brothers expected to plant a large orchard on one of their farms in the foot hills this spring, but the loss of their large barns by fire and the work of rebuilding may require so much attention that the tree planting will be postponed a year.

William Cation, of Peoria, Ill., will take possession of the Moritz farm on April 1st and will add to the 1000 trees which he planted last season quite materially. Edward Strasbaugh will plant 1200 trees this spring mostly apples. John Cease has ordered several hundred apple trees for spring planting. Mervin Stonestier has ordered 700 trees, apple and peach. Jacob Moritz will plant 300 apple and peach trees. Baltzley Brothers will add considerably to their acreage in orchard, both of apple and peach. William Baker will plant five acres in apples.

Mrs. Large and daughter, who recently carried off so many apple and pear premiums at the State Horticultural Fair, are ordering a goodly number of peach and pear trees. Charles Shindelecker is planting 450 apple and peach trees.

George C. Strong planted last year 900 apple, peach, cherry and pear trees, a small vineyard of Niagara grapes and two acres in berries. Mr. Strong is making berry growing somewhat of a specialty and has ordered several of the Burbank improved varieties of blackberries and raspberries from California. He is also planting some fall bearing strawberries. The Giant Himalaya blackberry was discovered by Luther Burbank in the Himalaya Mountain. The fruit grows to enormous size, has few seeds and is nearly coreless.

He has a promising patch of Japanese wine berries. These are an attractive red berry, growing with a jacket which bursts open as the fruit ripens, and closely resembles a large red raspberry. It is used specially for fancy jams and jelly. Mr. Strong will plant 850 fruit trees this spring, mostly apple.

John W. Crowe will plant the balance of his farm in fruit and add new buildings, thus making a desirable home as well as a profitable orchard.

Roy Purviance, of Peoria, who purchased the Shumaker farm, will be on hand soon after April first, to plant his orchard and build his summer home.

Many other fruit farms are being added. The change and transformation of these worn out and neglected mountain farms to up-to-date fruit farms is steadily going on, and in a few years the Orrtanna Fruit Belt will be known in the fruit markets.

GET PRAISE FOR BARNES ARREST

State Officers Praised for Capture Near Waynesboro of Murderer of Officer Daywalt, Former Fairfield Man.

The following is part of a full page illustrated story in the New York Herald of last Sunday, quite interesting to us rural folk:

"Hello! Hello!" came an agitated voice over the telephone.

"Hello?" replied Corporal Davies inquiringly as he took down the receiver in the lonely little house hidden in the hills in rural Pennsylvania. Midnight is a dreary time, and even a voice calling for help is more welcome than the uncanny silence of the woods.

"Hello!" came the voice again, "is this the State Police outpost?"

"Yes," answered the lonesome corporal. "What can we do for you?"

"This is Sheriff Welker, of Waynesboro. The Barnes brothers have just killed Constable Daywalt and are in hiding in their home. Can you send me some men?"

"Right away!" replied the Corporal. He was alone. He knew the Barnes brothers—William and Abraham—by reputation and was well aware that they cared little for life. He hired an automobile, hurried to Waynesboro by himself and arrived there at one o'clock in the morning. As he approached the house a fusillade came from the hills, directed by a tiny flickering light in a window. Uninjured but warned, Corporal Davies retreated with the posse or deputy sheriffs, to guard until daylight against the escape of the outlaws.

When morning came Corporal Davies saw a woman coming down the road in a trap. He left his men, jumped into the wagon with the woman and rode off. She was the sister of the outlaws, on her way to their place. As the two neared the house the brothers walked out, one with a shotgun leveled and the other with a revolver.

Corporal Davies vaulted out of the wagon and in a brief battle killed the older man, made a prisoner of the younger and forced him to assist in carrying the body into the house, afterward taking him to prison.

This is only one of a thousand instances of a similar nature that happen in the lives of the small army of black hussars of the Pennsylvania State Police, under the command of Major John C. Groome. Organized originally for quelling riots in the coal mining regions, their services have expanded until they exert a mystic influence for peace and order over all the State. They have only two principles—right and wrong. They are empowered to stop wrongs, and they do it. Fully conversant with every point of law, their great aim is to capture the murderer, the incendiary, the rioter, the thief, the being who prowls around to injure or molest women or any other who runs athwart the general laws of common decency. There are two hundred and twenty of them, with their officers, and they are on call all hours of the day or night. They operate in groups of three, outposts being situated all through the rural districts. The moment an alarm is received in one of the little houses in the far hills a triumvirate for order bursts out like an aerial bomb, its horsemen dashing in different directions in pursuit of the outlaws or the murderers or the escaping marauders.

Nothing has given the rural districts such a feeling of safety in their homes as these swift Cossacks of the night. The clatter of a horse's hoofs galloping over the hard roads in the darkness means an assurance of safety that never existed before. The farmer in the sparsely settled section knows that his telephone may summon half a dozen of the hard riding State police and have them with him in a few minutes, and that if a thief escapes he will be surrounded by a network of the galloping horsemen from which he has very little hope of escape. The least resistance means a shot from the gun of the State police, that is aimed to kill.

Order and the right to live peacefully are what they are determined to maintain, and they are ready every time they are called to duty to lay down their lives in defence of the State's law and order.

AGREE NOT TO ATTACK UNIONS

Sixteen Congressmen Pledged to Block Legislation.

SEEK THE SPEAKER'S AID

House Judiciary Committee Believed to Have Been Scared by the Labor Lobby.

Washington, March 20.—No trust legislation without compliance with the Baltimore platform's pledge to exempt labor unions from prosecution as trusts was the decision of the group of sixteen members of the house representing the Democratic, the Republican and Progressive parties at a meeting Wednesday night.

Following that action, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, called on Speaker Clark to enlist his services in favor of the Bacon-Bartlett bill.

The purpose of this movement is to try the effect of organized support of labor unions exemption in the administration. The meeting is the climax of a series of conferences between labor leaders and members of congress.
The common opinion is that the labor lobby has "scared" the judiciary committee, which is engaged in framing the trust bills.

The representatives who have pledged themselves to block trust legislation till the passage of the Bacon-Bartlett bill is assured, are: Representatives Buchanan, of Illinois; Lewis, of Maryland; Keating, of Colorado; Nolan, of California; Lee, Farr and Casey, of Pennsylvania; Maher, of New York; Helvering, of Kansas; Key and Sherwood, of Ohio; Gorman, of Illinois; Carey, of Wisconsin, and Roberts, of Nevada.

It is rumored that Secretary of State Bryan will be called upon by this group to come to their aid in convincing the president of the necessity for passing the labor exemption bill.

It is well known that Bryan was the impelling force on the resolutions committee of both the Denver and Baltimore conventions which committed the Democratic party to the underlying principles of the Bacon-Bartlett bill.

If the house does not act on this matter before long the sub-committee of the senate judiciary committee, which has the same bill under consideration, will bring in a favorable report.

This sub-committee consists of Senators Reed, of Missouri; Walsh, of Montana, and Cummins, of Iowa. The late Senator Bacon, of Georgia, part author of the legislation in dispute, was a member of the judiciary committee.

CLEARED IN GRAFT TRIAL

Lincoln A. Ramsey, of Reading, Not Guilty of Bribery and Conspiracy.

Reading, Pa., March 20.—In the case of former City Clerk Lincoln A. Ramsey, charged with accepting a bribe and with conspiracy while in office in connection with getting an appropriation for the purchase of a tractor for Keystone Hook and Ladder company, the jury rendered a verdict of not guilty.

Ramsey was indicted upon three counts—receiving a bribe to influence legislation, paid a bribe for his official acts to be done in obtaining the passage of the ordinance and conspiring with two councilmen to obtain the passage of legislation corruptly.

The evidence against the accused was worked up by a detective agency last fall. It resulted in the arrest of Ramsey and the councilmen.

MRS. WILSON RECOVERING

Serious.

Washington, March 20.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson is well on the road to complete recovery from the effects of a fall over a rug on the White House floor.

Officials at the executive offices said her injury was an external one of no seriousness, and that she would be out again attending to social engagements in a day or two.

York, Pa., March 20.—The directors of the York Y. M. C. A. closed an option on the Wilhelm property in East Market street, which will assure a new Young Men's Christian Association building for York. The Wilhelm property will cost $25,000. A campaign for funds will start soon under the direction of C. S. Ward, of New York city.

Two Rescued in Federalburg Fire.
Federalburg, Md., March 20.—Aaro.
B. Pittman, proprietor of a grocery store, and Lloyd Turner, a clerk, were rescued from a fire which destroyed the building and contents. Turner jumped to the ground in his night clothes, while Pittman was carried down the ladder by Frank Nichols, who discovered the fire.

James' Protestant Episcopal church, in this city, was killed in an elevator accident in an uptown apartment

V. FOR W, LOSES IN THE SENATE

Suffrage Amendment Defeated, 35 to 34

WOMEN WILL TRY AGAIN

Mrs. Medill McCormick Says They Will Renew Their Efforts to Secure National Legislation.

Washington, March 20.—The senate went on record against a constitutional amendment for equal suffrage.
The vote was 35 to 34 in favor of the resolution, but as two-thirds were required to pass the resolution the vice president announced it had failed to carry.

This defeat is the hardest blow the equal suffrage advocates have received in their campaign to force congress to act favorably on the equal suffrage question.

Just before the final vote on the resolution proper two test votes were taken on amendments restricting suffrage to white citizens. Senator Var-daman's resolution repealing the constitutional amendment enfranchising negroes was lost by a vote of 48 to 19.
An amendment offered by Senator Williams, of Mississippi, restricting woman suffrage to white women was lost by a vote of 44 to 21.

Announcement was made for Senator Root that if present he would have voted against the resolution. A like announcement was made for Senator Fall, of New Mexico, and Senator Saulsbury, of Delaware, and Senator Lippitt, of Rhode Island, announced that if he had not been paired he would vote against the resolution.

Senator Chilton, of West Virginia, on the other hand, stated that if un-paired he would vote for the resolution. An announcement was made that the following about senators, if present, would vote for the resolution: Cummins, Penrose, Smith, of Arizona; Smith, of Michigan, and Walsh.

Senator Shafroth, of Colorado, a strong advocate of woman suffrage, proposed a resolution in the form of a constitutional amendment, which he endeavored to introduce, but which was met by calls for the regular order, and was finally cut off entirely by a motion from Senator Hoke Smith to go into executive session.

Mrs. Medill McCormick, a daughter of the late Senator Hanna, who is chairman of the suffragists' congressional committee, issued this statement:

"For the first time in fifty years the women of America demonstrated their impression upon the United States senate as shown by a majority vote upon the question of nation wide suffrage for women. It is the sign of the times, and it portends that all womanhood in this country will be emancipated within this generation."

"Suffrage sentiment in the senate is strong enough to warrant us in renewing our efforts to secure national legislation, and the amendment proposed by Senator Shafroth will meet many of the objections raised during the debate, and the cause of suffrage will be far advanced if he can secure favorable action on this resolution during the present session."

THE BOOK SWINDLE

Woman Paid $37,075 For Volumes Valued at $4079.

Boston, March 20.—After Mrs. L.
Rogers, of this city, had testified at the so-called book trial in the superior court that she paid Glen F.
Farmer, Samuel Rosenfield and James P. Clark $37,075 for 1000 volumes, Frederick M. Hopkins, of Yonkers, N.
Y., who claimed to be an expert, declared that the market value of the books was $4079.

Mrs. Rogers said she bought the books, not to read, but to hold for an increased price, which the defendants had assured her she would be able to obtain within a few months, because the books were going out of print.

Five Firemen Hurt in Wreck of Truck Atlantic City, N. J., March 20.—Five firemen were hurt, two of them seriously, and six others had narrow escapes when the big motor truck turned turtle at Michigan and Atlantic avenues. The motor truck was responding to an alarm from New York avenue and the beach front, but the accident to the apparatus did far more damage than the blaze, which was in a basement and was quickly extinguished. The motor truck, however, was wrecked, probably beyond repair.
It cost $10,000 and had been in service only two months.

Two Bodies Taken From Fire Ruins.
Detroit, Mich., March 20.—Two bodies have been recovered and a third body is believed to be in the ruins of a five-story hotel building at 51-53 Woodbridge street, which was swept by fire. Two men were injured and two score of employees, including several women, escaped from the blazing building. The property loss was estimated at $100,000.

Farmer Ends Life by Hanging.
Hagerstown, Md., March 20.—Jacob Hunsberger, sixty-five years of age, a prominent resident of Maugansville, committed suicide by hanging. His body was found by his daughter in a stable. Hunsberger was depressed by ill-health.

able. E. S. Large, Orrtanna.—adver-

PARIS IS IN FERMENT

Minister of Marine Resigns and Mob Attacks Woman Slayer's Home.

Paris, March 20.—Paris is still in a ferment as the result of the murder of Gaston Calmette, editor of the Figaro, by Madame Caillaux, wife of the former minister of finance.

The tragedy forced the resignation of Ernest Monis, minister of marine, after several of his colleagues had threatened to quit unless he tendered his resignation.

The resignation of M. Monis was caused by statements made in the chamber of deputies that, while he was premier, he had exerted powerful influence on the public prosecutor, Victor Fabre, to postpone the trial of Henri Rochette, who was alleged to have swindled the public out of sums aggregating $20,000,000 by fraudulent stock promotions. Rochette disappeared while on bail.

A fierce riot, in which 1000 men and women took part, occurred in front of the residence of Deputy Thalmas. The deputy had taken Madame Caillaux's part in an open letter to the newspapers.

Crying "Down with Caillaux and Thalmas!" the men and women surged around the building, attempting to get inside. A strong detachment of police and Republican guards drove off the rioters after a hard fight. Twenty arrests were made.

MARRIED A WEEK, YOUNG BRIDE ELOPES

Husband Says She Ran Away With Former Sweetheart.

Philadelphia, March 20. — Harry Kantar, a bridegroom of only a week, asked Magistrate Carson for a warrant for the arrest of Louis Dominick, on the charge of eloping with Mrs.
Kantar.

Magistrate Carson performed the ceremony Wednesday of last week, and now Kantar, in addition to seeking a warrant, wants a divorce. It was the first wedding the magistrate had performed.

Kantar's bride was Pasqualina Va-salle. She is an Italian, while her husband is a Greek, twenty-nine years old. They met only three months ago.
Kantar is a candy maker.

When they went to Magistrate Carson's office to have the knot tied they did not have a marriage license. Constable Werner took them to the city hall, but it developed that the prospective bride had been divorced. Werner then took them to the courts and obtained a copy of the divorce. Then the marriage license was obtained and they were married.

Kantar appeared at the magistrate's office on Thursday and said:

"I want a divorce. My wife she has left me. She ran away with Louis Dominick, her old sweetheart, and I want him arrested. He tore up my wife's marriage certificate and came to me and offered me 110 and the wedding ring. He said $5 was to pay me for what I gave the magistrate and the other $5 was to pay for what it cost me to get the license. He said my wife did not have any use for the wedding ring any more."

MINERS LOSE SUIT

Action For Pay Dismissed Because of Statute of Limitations.

Pottsville, Pa., March 20.—The case of Thomas Shevlin and George Gallagher, of McAdoo, who sued the Silver Brook Coal company, charging that they had not been paid for mining 2500 cars of coal, was non-suited because the statute of limitations intervened before they began action.

The company stopped operations eighteen months ago, and counsel for the miners said that the statute only operated since that time, but the court did not view it in that light.

Last September the plaintiffs got a verdict of $665, but they refused to accept it and got a new trial.

Scientist Burns to Death.

Naples, Italy, March 20.—Professor Giuseppe Mercalli, director of the observatory on Mount Vesuvius, was

The professor, who also occupied the chair of seismology at the University of Naples, retired to sleep at his usual hour. The cause of the fire is not known.

Round and Nervous, Restored to Health by Vinol.
A. D. Robinson, Radford, Va., says: "I was all run down in health, had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep at night. Vinol was recommended to me and after using one bottle I noticed an improvement. Continuing its use I was completely restored to health. The nervousness is all gone, I can get a good night's sleep and have a hearty appetite. I can recommend Vinol to anyone who suffers as I did."
Vinol is the greatest body builder and strength creator we know of. The curative elements of the cod's liver, aided by the blood-making, strengthening properties of tonic iron contained in Vinol, restore the lacking ingredients to the blood, and the result is health, strength and vigor.
If you need building up try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. People's Drug Store, Gettysburg, Pa.

IN IRISH DEBATE
Deserts Floor of Commons in Height of Battle.
ULSTER OFFERS NEW PLAN

Again Challenges Liberals to Go to Country on the Home Rule For Ireland Issue.
London, March 20.—The Irish home rule controversy was punctuated by a sensational debate in the house of commons on a proposed vote of censure directed against the government.
The vote of censure on the British government was moved in the house of commons by Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition.
It was based on Premier Asquith's refusal on Monday to give details of the scheme of local option by which the nine counties of Ulster would be permitted to vote separately on the question of the new Irish government.
The leader of the opposition offered to give a guarantee that if the government would take a referendum of the United Kingdom on the home rule bill and the local option proposal the Unionists both in the house of lords and in the house of commons would place no impediment in the way of carrying out the will of the people.
When Premier Asquith arose to defend the government's Irish policy he was enthusiastically received. The cheers of the Liberals and Irish Nationalists drowned the hoots of the opposition.
The premier looked coldly upon the proposition of a referendum. He said he would not go further than to say the government took note of it. "The government," he said, "does not recede from its proposals, under which there would be no coercion of Ulster. The scheme gives a six years' trial of home rule before there would be any attempt to bring Ulster under its provisions."
Sir Edward Carson followed Premier Asquith. The Ulster leader worked himself into an excited frame of mind. "If the government's proposals are final, there is nothing further for me to do in the commons," said he. "If I am a conspirator let the government try me on this issue. The present government is one of cowards. It has refused to consult the people. I could not ask for better conditions under which to carry out the policy to which Ulster has been driven."
Joseph Devlin, a leader of the Irish Nationalists, leaped to his feet and began a review of Sir Edward Carson's political career, mainly his earlier associations with the home rule bill. In the midst of the accusations Sir Edward jumped upon a bench and shrieked: "Those are infamous lies and you know it."
Liberals, Irish Nationalists and Unionists joined in the verbal fray, all shouting and screaming epithets. The speaker pounded with his gavel for more than five minutes before the noise ceased.
The Ulster Unionist was told that he must withdraw his statement or apologize to Devlin. Sir Edward thereupon withdrew the phrase "infamous lie" and substituted instead "wilful falsehood."
Devlin then proceeded with his speech, which was concerned wholly with Carson's political career.
Suddenly Sir Edward left his seat and hurried from the room, deserting the opposition at the height of its battle for a vote of censure against the government. As Sir Edward passed out all the Unionists in commons stood up and cheered wildly. Sir Edward left London, saying he was going to Belfast.
The Globe newspaper published a report that warrants had been signed for the arrest of Sir Edward Carson and other Ulster leaders. An official denial of such a move was promptly forthcoming. The report caused considerable excitement until the denial came.
The rumors of impending arrests naturally stirred political circles generally, and though it was regarded as an extremely unlikely move for the government to make at this stage of Irish affairs, it caused a passing flurry.

Make It Easy for the "Devil"

GET a Rumely-Olds Engine to run your press. You just start it and it keeps on running till the last copy is off the press. It is the same with other jobs, too. You can use it to run grain separators or clover hullers and it does just as good work as it does with your printing press, churn or grindstone. It turns hard work into mere play.

If you can't call and see one running, let us know and we'll call on you and tell you all about them. Or, if you prefer, we will send you a catalog describing them in detail.

We're here to serve you, give us the chance.
